Thirty-First Guest Night Of Woman's Club

The thirty-first annual Guest Night of the Arlington Woman's Club occurred last evening, Thursday, January 6th, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall. As usual it drew a large percentage of its 700 club members and their guests.

The president, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, gowned in an imported metal lace toilette, introduced the program, in one of the brightest speeches ever heard on that platform, using the language of the radio fans to announce the attractions, which were the well known Knickerbocker Club, and Berthe Braggiotti, assisted by a group from the Braggiotti-Denishawn school.

Mrs. Mead began by saying "This is broadcasting station C. L. U. B., the Womanly Voice," cruising the air from Robbins Memorial Town Hall, with 700 regular meet-ers, no fading; coming in strong, but with innumerable "short and long macel wave lengths." Her entire speech was coached in similar radio language that was heartily appreciated by the audience, who expressed itself in hearty applause at the close of her witticisms as she announced that the next voice to be heard would be Mr. Ralph Harlow, local announcer for the Knickerbocker Club. "This is M. E. A. D. signing off at 8:55, Waltham Eastern time. Please Stand By."

The personnel of the quartet is Norman Arnold, first tenor; Ralph Harlow, second tenor; Walter Kidder, first bass; Cameron Steele, second bass. The quality of their singing is so well known that no comment is necessary, other than to report that each member made many new friends. The beautiful dancing of Miss Braggiotti and a group from her school left nothing to be desired. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments by the Social Committee, Mrs. Arthur P. Wyman, chairman, R. W. Blake, catering.

During this time the officers of the club received informally in one corner of the hall, when a grouping of palms made an effective background. Members of the University Orchestra, that had given a delightful concert, appreciated by those who listened, played selections.

The program follows:—

CALENDARS APPRECIATED BY THE ADVOCATE

The Advocate acknowledges the receipt of a handsome calendar from E. A. Parlee, Real Estate, with place of business at 466 Mass. avenue, the first to reach our office; also another beautiful one from Chester R. Whitman, Insurance and Real Estate, who purchased the business of the late R. Walter Hilliard. Mr. Whitman has adopted as his motto, "Keep Arlington Busy." George H. Rice, the Boot and Shoe dealer, has also remembered the Advocate with one of the handsome calendars he has gotten out. Russell & Fairchild has remembered the Advocate once again.

CHARLES F. COOLIDGE DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Long Identified With Riverside Press. Active in Church and Masonic Circles.

Following an illness of less than a week, Charles F. Coolidge, for more than thirty years a resident of Arlington, passed away at his home, 28 Jason street, on New Year's morning.

Mr. Coolidge, who was in his seventy-second year, had been for over fifty-five years associated with Houghton, Mifflin Co., of Cambridge. As a boy of sixteen, he entered the Riverside Press, where his father, Charles Coolidge, had been employed for a long period. Starting with the job of office-boy, the persistent application and enthusiastic interest in his work, which marked his whole life, brought him reward, and for many years he had been superintendent of the bindery, in charge of the binding of the publications which have made the Riverside Press known everywhere. In this position he enjoyed the acquaintance and friendship of many famous authors, a fact attested by the numerous, autographed copies of noted books to be found in his library.

On the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his association with the business, in September, 1921, the firm of Houghton, Mifflin Co. presented him with a beautiful gold watch and a letter of appreciation, both of which Mr. Coolidge prized highly. The regard in which he was held by his subordinates and associates is attested by the fact that at the time of his death he was Treasurer of the Mutual Benefit Association of the Riverside Press, and by the many floral tributes that came to the funeral services from the various departments at the Press.

Mr. Coolidge did not by any means allow business to absorb all his thought. In addition to his home interests, to which he was always devoted, he was a member of the Universalist church of Arlington, and for many years a trustee and deacon. He was also a trustee of the Universalist Publishing House of Boston. He was a member of Russell Lodge, A. F. & A. M. and of Menotomy Council, Royal Arcanum. His friendly, cheery greeting and warm personal interest will be missed by many friends in every walk of life.

The funeral services, which were held at the home on Jason street, Monday, January 9th, were conducted by Rev. Charles F. Patterson, pastor of the Universalist church. The bearers were Cecil Cowdrey, High Priest of Menotomy Royal Arch Chapter; Harry W. Jones, Joseph F. Lufkin, representing Russell Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; H. B. Severance, J. A. Stinson, William Hankin, representing the Riverside Press.

Charles F. Coolidge was born in Cambridge, November 3, 1855, the son of Charles Coolidge, formerly of Watertown, and Mary Greenwood, formerly of Brighton. His first wife, Addie Briggs, of Cambridge, lived only a few years after their marriage. On October 9, 1890, he married Julia Streeter of Lowell. She survives him, together with his daughters, Mrs. Howard S. Russell, of Wayland, and Miss Ruth-Caroline Coolidge, the latter who made her home with her parents; a granddaughter, Constance Symmes Russell, and a sister, Mrs. George E. Wood, of Brighton.

REV. JOHN N. MARK ACCEPTS

Letter Read at The Annual New Year's Party of The First Parish.

The annual New Year's party of the First Parish Unitarian church was held last Thursday evening, December 30th. The children of the church gathered at 4 o'clock for games and entertainment. At 6:30 a chicken pie dinner was served to some two hundred and seventy-five. Following this a letter from Rev. John N. Mark of Fall River, accepting the call given by the church to become its minister, was read by Mr. Charles H. Stevens, chairman of the committee. Dr. Gill spoke briefly regarding the new minister, and congratulated the parish on having avoided an interim between his own ministry and that of his successor. An entertainment and dancing by the young people followed.

Dr. Frederic Gill's ministry at the Unitarian church will terminate on March 31st. Rev. John N. Mark will assume his duties on April 1st. Friday, February 4th, will be the thirty-fifth anniversary of Dr. Gill's ordination and installation and will be observed by an anniversary gathering in the church that evening.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Rourke of 63 Teel street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Jennett, to Arthur O. Davidson of 28 Magnolia street. Miss Rourke was a member of the Arlington High School, Class of 1925. Mr. Davidson attended school in Boston, and for a number of years has been associated with the Kidder Peabody & Co., of Boston.

The engagement is of unusual interest, as both are very active in the younger circle, and much identified with the work of the Trinity Baptist church.

DOGS ARE NOT TO BE MUZZLED

The general order that all dogs be muzzled for a period of ninety days has been countermanded by the Selectmen at a meeting held Monday, January 3rd, 1927. Dr. Erwin F. Schroeder, inspector of animals, advised the Selectmen that the situation was not as serious as at first appeared and could be taken care of by a local quarantine.

The annual church supper and business meeting of the Orthodox Congregational church takes place Friday evening, January 14th.

Almost Five Million In Building Permits

ARLINGTON FORUM TO BE RESUMED SUNDAY

John Langdon-Davies Listed to Speak.

After a respite of nearly a month, the Arlington Forum will be resumed Sunday, January 9th, in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, at 3.45 p. m. The speaker will be John Langdon-Davies, young English scientist, Fellow of the Royal Anthropological Institute, Oxford Scholar, Labor Party candidate for Parliament, and journalist. He has been a contributor to The New Republic, Harper's, The Century and his own English papers; and finally he has written the book which critics everywhere have been praising, "The New Age of Faith."

His subject for Sunday afternoon will be, "A Nordic on the Nordic Myth." The music will be by Gertrude Thompson, soprano, at the First Universalist church, and Richard Grayson, baritone. Mrs. C. Frederic Evans will be the accompanist.

Rev. Edward Allen Morris, minister of the Orthodox Congregational church, will preside over the Forum. The ushers will be members of the Rotary Club, Frank Y. Wellington, Rufus W. Blake, Ernest A. Snow, Dr. Ernest M. Fisher, Frank Wunderlich and Charles M. McManus.

BOARD OF TRADE HEARS DISCUSSED BUSINESS OUTLOOK

The Board of Trade held a short and snappy meeting in Middlesex Sportsman's Association hall Tuesday evening. A turkey dinner was served, that gave evidence of being enjoyed, after which the usual half hour of singing was participated in with Jack Loud at the piano, and John Hendrick leading.

President Charles M. Evans presided over the short business session, at which time Franklin P. Hawkes, principle of the Junior High school, West, presented the organization with two standards for the flags used at the meetings, which had been made by boys in the Junior High West. Several new applications were received for membership and five new members elected.

Howard Coomley, president of the Walworth Manufacturing Company, was the speaker of the evening. He talked on the "Business Outlook for 1927," which to his mind was most encouraging. Starting as an office boy, the speaker has himself, climbed the rungs of the ladder in the business world, until he now holds his present position. He told his audience how this had been accomplished and gave timely advice regarding leaving cares in the office after the door had been closed, which would better fit one to resume them again the following day. Mr. Coomley was very optimistic as to the future of New England, industrially, because of the better understanding between employers and employees that exists in this part of the country, prosperity every where apparent.

Dr. Gill's topic at the Unitarian Church next Sunday morning, January 9th, will be "A Gospel of Laughter."

This has been a banner year for Arlington in the issuing of building permits, which have passed the four million dollar mark. To be exact, $4,726,530.00, representing 921 permits. These figures bear out the well known fact that Arlington is growing by leaps and bounds. The biggest private ventures that are in the course of construction are three apartment houses, being erected at a total cost of $3,000,000. There have been built, 286 1-family houses, totaling in amount, $1,824,500; besides 162 two-family houses, amounting to $1,486,500. 13 blocks of stores, amounting to $222,500, were petitioned for. It would seem, judging from appearances, that Arlington had reached the point where no more stores were needed, for the present at least.

Permits for garages have somewhat decreased of late, only 331 having been issued for the entire year, amounting to $312,700. The Inspector of Buildings, William Gratto, has also issued a permit for the building of one school house, the new Parmenter school, for $104,000, and one for the town's new police headquarters, now in the process of erection, for $95,000. The new building being erected by the Arlington Five Cents Savings bank at Arlington Heights, at a cost of $27,000, helps to swell the town's coffers, as does also the new gas container being erected by the Arlington Gas Light Company, at their works on Summer street, at a cost of $35,000.

Besides these permits there has been one for a mercantile building, $22,000; dye house, $27,000; cleaning house, $3,000; laundry and dry cleaning, $27,000; greenhouse, workshop and boiler, $8,000; greenhouse, $10,000; bakery, $12,500; filling station, $4,000, and office building, $1,000. Miscellaneous permits included sun parlors, piazzas, sheds, dormer windows, hen houses, storage house, coal pocket, pigeon coop, chimney and roof house.

The building permits for the past month have netted $145,400, and is about the lowest of the year, due to the snow and winter weather. Only twenty-eight permits were issued, seventeen were for one family dwellings for the amount of $102,000; four for two family dwellings, for $37,000; five garages for $2,400; alterations from one family house to two family house, for $1,000, and repairing and alteration burned building, for $3,000.

ENCAMPMENT NO. 82, I. O. O. F. HOLD NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY

The annual New Year's Eve dance and party of the Arlington Encampment, No. 82, I. O. O. F., was successfully held on New Year's Eve with a very large number in attendance. The music was furnished by Waldron's orchestra. The program included many novelty dances, among which was a balloon dance and an elimination waltz. At midnight the streamer and favor dance ushered in the new year most merrily. The party was unusually enjoyable and its success was greatly due to the large number of members and other couples who attended. The committee in charge were gratified with the support given to it by members of the Encampment.

E. D. McCoy, chairman of the social committee, was chairman of the evening. Norman Walkinshaw was floor director and Walter Holt, assistant. Other members of the committee were De Trafford Smith, George Murdoch, "Mel" Sillicker and Herbert Bolser.

PAUL W. CHAPMAN WILL SERVE THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

Paul W. Chapman, who has had wide experience in the construction business, has been appointed clerk and time keeper for the Board of Public Works. Mr. Chapman has assumed his new duties, and has started working out the new plan under which this department is to be run. Burpee Eaton, another new man in the office of the Board, has been appointed the stock keeper. Through these new departments the Bd. of Public Works feels that they will be able to save the town a good deal of money. Miss Frances Ahern, who has been connected with the Board for several years, resigned her position last Friday. Miss Ahern has served the town in many of its departments.

The next meeting of the Menotomy Chapter, D. A. R., will be held in the Episcopal Parish House, Friday, January 14, at 2.30 p. m., with Mrs. George B. C. Rugg, speaker. Her topic will be "Revolutionary Revelations."

The date is in the trimming today

YOU can often tell a real 1926 fall model shoe by its trimming, for while the simple patterns of last season have become, if possible, simpler than ever, many new ornamental effects have been introduced. The Knox, for instance, is a gore-pump brought strictly up-to-date by its charming and fashionable bow and gray piping. A trim little shoe with a smart little trim!

Fifty Years Ago This Week

The ice on Spy Pond is so poor this year that the Addison Gage & Co., will harvest none of it. Enough to fill the houses of Mr. Asa Durgin will be cut for him as soon as they are through filling the company's houses in New Hampshire.

Sixteen ladies of the W. C. T. U. had the courage to face the inclement weather last Tuesday afternoon, and attend the annual meeting of the Union. It was decided not to elect officers, the attendance being so small, but a committee was chosen to nominate a list of officers to report at the next meeting on the 16th inst. A vote of thanks to Menotomy Club, for the free use of their hall, was unanimously passed.

It is mean to snicker in your sleeve when a woman slips down, and then rush to her assistance with tears in your eyes and tell her how sorry you feel.

By notice in another column, it will be seen that the firm of R. W. Shattuck & Co., is dissolved. The business will be continued by Mr. Shattuck, at the old stand, and he will retain in his employ all of the old help. He solicits a continuance of the patronage of the citizens of Arlington and vicinity, which he will no doubt receive.

New Year's day, which opened so brightly, and gave such promise of pleasant weather, ended with a storm which is likely to be remembered for some time, as its results lie piled in great heaps in every direction, and travel has been sadly impeded and inconvenient all the week. It was the heaviest fall of snow for several years, amounting to nearly twelve inches. The trains on the Middlesex Central R. R. were somewhat delayed, owing to trouble on the main line of the Lowell road, but on the whole there was little occasion for fault-finding.

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

The little shoe shop at the center crossing has been renovated almost beyond recognition.

Prest. A. C. Cobb of the Congregational Y. P. S. C. E. will conduct the service Sunday evening at half past six, in the vestry of the church, when the subject will be, "Beginning Anew."

The large head-light at Arlington Boat Club has been rigged on the upper balcony of the club house, where it sheds a pathway of light almost across Spy Pond and has been a welcome beacon for the skaters.

The annual meeting of the officers and teachers of the Universalist Sunday School was held in the vestry of the church last Monday evening, there being a good attendance. After hearing the reports from the officers for the year, and transacting the necessary business, the following officers were elected for the year: superintendent, O. B. Marston; asst. supts., J. O. Holt and Mrs. F. B. Wadleigh; recording sec'y, Fred Butterfield; corresponding sec'y, Myra Peirce; treasurer, L. K. Russell; pianist, Cairn Higgins; asst. pianist, Fred J. Butterfield; librarians, Amy Winn, Helene Johnson.

Married in Arlington, December 31st, by Rev. C. H. Watson, D. D., Harold L. Frost of Belmont and Miss Sophia Wood Freeman of Arlington.

Skating on Spy Pond commenced Tuesday, was good on Wednesday, but on Thursday was fine, with a surface as smooth as glass.

The warm rain Sunday made the snow disappear from the Heights almost as money from our purses. Burglars don't seem to find any field for encouragement here, for the reason that most of the people could only offer them expectations.

WHY NOT RUN MORE CARS?

Complaint has come to the ears of the Advocate concerning the crowded condition of the street cars run by the Boston Elevated Railroad through this town, especially during the early morning hours. Many of the cars, by the time they reach Arlington center, are so full that there is standing room only, and more often than otherwise, not even that; so that by the time the cars reach East Arlington it is almost impossible for any one to get into the car, and it is not unusual to be obliged to wait for another car.

This is rather bad for the business man or woman who is expected by his or her employer, to be on time at their place of business.

Another thing that breeds discontent with the Boston Elevated is that there does not appear to be any regular running time from the Harvard Square subway to Arlington in the early morning. Is not this possible?

Then again, the crowded condition of the cars at night in the Harvard Square subway has become such a regular thing, that only those who are strangers in the subway seem concerned with the inconvenience that patrons are subjected to, by being obliged to let not only one car go by, but often two or three, before even a foot-hold can be gotten onto an outgoing car.

The only answer to all of these complaints is that more cars should be run to and from Arlington, both in the early morning hours, say between 7 and 8:30 a. m. and also between 5 and 6:30 in the evening.

Would not this be something that our Board of Selectmen might take up with the management of the Boston Elevated, with the view of getting better service for Arlington?

CAROL FOSTER IS OFFICIAL HOSTESS

Girl Scouts Are Having a Three-Days Conference in Newton High School Hall.

Many of our Girl Scouts are participating in the three days' Conference being held in the Newton High School hall, beginning today and continuing through Sunday. The conference, which is being attended by Girl Scouts in metropolitan Boston, is of local interest from the fact that Miss Carol Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Foster, of Pleasant street is the official hostess, an honor which has been richly earned by Miss Foster, because of her splendid scout work.

The Saturday sessions will be for girl scouts only. Miss Mary Doyle will be chairman, and the discussions will be started, in each case, by a scout and continued informally from the floor. Among the speakers will be Lily Chapman of Lincoln, Frances Davis of Wellesley, Janice Upham of Newton, Priscilla Delano of Dorchester, Miss Nancy Nichols of Lexington and Dorothea Salman of Needham.

On Sunday morning the scouts will attend churches of their own affiliation. In the early afternoon, however, they will gather again for a "Scouts' Own," a non-sectarian, informal religious meeting. After the service a tea, given by the Newton council, will close the conference.

JOHN CALDER TO ADDRESS

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Men's Bible Class of the Orthodox Congregational church will be addressed on Sunday, January 9, by Mr. John Calder, consulting engineer, a resident of Lexington. He is a prominent Congregational layman and chairman of the Social service commission of the National Council of Congregational churches. His subject will be "Getting Together in Industry."

Mr. Calder is a distinguished graduate of the Royal Technical College, Scotland, and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; the Society of Industrial Engineers; and the American Management Association. He was works manager of the Remington Type-writer Company for ten years, as well as of the Cadillac Motor Car Company and other concerns. He later originated and organized the Industrial Relations Plan, under which many thousands of Swift & Company employees are operating harmoniously in numerous plants since the War. His books, "Capital's Duty to the Wage-Earner" and "Foremen Training," have been widely influential.

OVER NINE HUNDRED MEN TOOK PART IN SERVICE

Over nine hundred men gathered in St. Agnes' church Sunday afternoon to take part in the union services of the Holy Name Societies representing St. Agnes' church, St. James' church of the Heights, St. Bridget's church of Lexington and St. Raphael's of West Medford. Members of the Holy Name Societies of each church attended in a body, a section of the church being reserved for each organization. St. Raphael's Holy Name Society, over 200 strong, marched from West Medford to the church, headed by their prefect, Rev. James F. Lynch. The society from St. James' church marched from the Heights to St. Agnes' church, headed by the pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor. The Lexington society was in charge of Rev. Peter F. Conlon, while that of St. Agnes' church was in charge of Rev. Joseph P. Murphy, its prefect.

The union services were opened by Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, pastor of St. Agnes' church. The sermon, which was in keeping with the occasion, the Feast of the Holy Name of Jesus, was preached by Rev. Napoleon J. Tremblay of Maryville Seminary, Bedford.

Solemn benediction followed the services, Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor, celebrant; Rev. James F. Lynch, edacon; Rev. Peter F. Conlon, sub-deacon; Rev. Peter J. Conlon, sub-st. Agnes church, master of ceremonies.

The musical sections of the service were sung by choirs of men from each parish. Congregational singing was led by Rev. Fr. Murphy.

ARLINGTON BOY SELECTED FOR NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Alan Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Gordon Smith, 3-B Harvard street, has just been notified of his selection for membership in The League of Curtis Salesmen, an honor organization maintained by The Curtis Publishing Co. for boys who sell its publications.

Admittance to this organization depends upon regular school attendance and a record of efficient service to customers. Through this training, teachers very generally report that boys gain a sense of responsibility that tends to make schooling more real to them.

As Alan's friends know, he is developing a sense of self-confidence and an ability to make decisions quickly. That is one reason he is proud to show his badge of membership to his friends and is now looking forward to advancement to the next higher degree in the organization.

His brother, Douglas, is at the head of the branch in Arlington Heights, and has about 12 boys now selling the three publications.

CHRISTMAS EVE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Rev. Don Ivan Patch, Associate Minister of First Church, Tells Story.

The name of Calvin Coolidge is of interest to all irrespective of what political party one belongs to, or what part of the country one comes from. There is a certain thrill about contact with the household of the Chief Executive that awakens response anywhere. Because of this, I thought perhaps the story of a part of Christmas Eve at the White House might be of interest.

As Associate Minister of First Church, I was guest upon that occasion.

The Coolidge family, as you know, are members of the First Congregational Church of Washington and are regular in their attendance and most faithful to their Church responsibilities. So many times it seems that Church connection is a perfunctory thing to those who are so busy with larger and more worldly responsibilities. Such is not the case with the Coolidges. For example, this year when our ladies packed a "barrel" for a southern school, Mrs. Coolidge sent us a very large box of clothing. At Christmas over sixty poinsettias came for our Congregational Home from Mrs. Coolidge. In this same spirit our vested chorus choir of sixty-five voices was invited to sing for the third time in the North Portico of the White House Christmas Eve.

The rooms downstairs were opened to the choir to give opportunity for putting on their vestments over outer garments. You may well imagine that every member was most appreciative of the privilege of this visit to the White House. At the ends of the long corridor, and at the foot of the stairs were policemen with "White House" on their collars. The old man at the stairs told me he had been "in service" there for twenty-three years.

An extra thrill was reserved for me. The program was to be rendered at nine o'clock. Mrs. Ruby Smith Stahl, our choir leader, asked me if I could go back to the Church for outlines of the service. I consented and going up and out through the main doors of the White House, I rode over in Mr. Coolidge's open car. Miller, the chauffeur, seemed not the least impressed with the fact that he was chauffeur to the President of the United States, but distressed that his Pierce Arrow was over two years old (!!), and that he did not have a chance to decorate the Christmas tree for his six children. (He imparted the information that two were born in each of the last three administrations, and he hoped there would not be any changes in the administration in the near future.) When I returned to the portico a very large group had gathered to hear the carols. The guard recognized me so I got by.

At nine o'clock an instrumental quartet of musicians from Marine Band played a selection and First Church Choir marched up the stairway and out under the North Portico singing, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." The trumpeter in the quartet, Mr. Whitcomb, is probably the most famous in the world. He was selected to play taps at the funeral of Queen Victoria. President Wilson, President Harding and Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Pierce, Margaret, (their fifteen year old daughter) and I followed the choir. As we passed through the door Mrs. Coolidge left Mr. Coolidge and Mr. and Mrs. Stearns and went out with us. Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Pierce, Margaret and I stood near the window to the left and back of the choir. Mr. Haley (Mrs. Coolidge's Secret Service guard), Dr. Pierce, Dr. Boone (the President's physician), Mrs. Boone and John Coolidge completed the party. The President came out a bit late. John and Mrs. Coolidge joined in the singing.

The way in which the selections were rendered made us all very proud of the choir and Mrs. Stahl's leadership. Even from behind the music was wonderful. Mrs. Coolidge showed her appreciation most freely. The last number rendered, "Christmas Bells," was written by Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, the President's Pastor, and dedicated to Mrs. Coolidge.

Directly after the Choir returned to the great dining room, each was presented by the President's Aide, Colonel Cheney, to the President and Mrs. Coolidge, who stood in the receiving line. Cocoa, coffee, cookies and cake were then served. The President and Mrs. Coolidge greeted us in that quiet and unassuming way that is the expression of the democratic American spirit which we all love. Behind the President the two white collies were tied to the table. Both were as friendly as could be and everyone petted them. Mr. Coolidge made his way to the table to serve himself another cup of chocolate. Mrs. Coolidge gathered the Choir girls about her and chatted with them in just the way she would if she were a girl and one of the singers. The President seemed a bit restless and carried Mrs. Coolidge away much before we wished to let her go. The only touch of formal recognition of the Chief Executive were the two aides marching out ahead as he passed on his way to his room. Mrs. Coolidge looked over her shoulder to say good-night to us all.

We visited the beautiful Blue Room to see a Moravian putz, a reproduction in miniature with tiny figures of the stable and manger and even parts of surrounding country. It included figures of the Wise Men of the East and their camels. This was a gift to Mrs. Coolidge. In the window was the electrically lighted star, a wonderful creation of electrical art.

At ten thirty we left the White House. Everyone will remember it as one of the choicest of life's experiences. We carried away a wonder at the beauty of the White House, a gratitude for the cordial courtesy of the President in planning for our coming. Most of all we shall remember the informality and wonderful charm of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

Mrs. Coolidge in the brief word I had with her, said: "Are you glad you came to Washington instead of going elsewhere?" I replied, "Yes, Mrs. Coolidge, glad to have come just for this."

GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL DANCANT A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

The annual Dancant conducted by the Girl Scout Council on New Year's Day in Robbins Memorial Town Hall was a decided success. Never has there gathered such an attractive company of young people and this is saying a good deal, for the management has been conducting this party for several years and always it has brought together an interesting group of young people, representing schools and colleges, home for the holidays. Frocks were never more lovely than at the present time, for crepe de chine, satin, velvet and chiffon are used in such charming ways in the building of frocks, that one has difficulty in saying which are the most alluring. Many of these were worn at the Dancant, and added to the interest, for the spectators, at least. The frocks with double tiered pleated ruffled skirts were lovely, especially when in the two-tone effect. Several of these were in the Alice blue, two with the double tieres in a deeper shade of chiffon velvet. A lovely gray chiffon with a shoulder decoration in pink and gray sport hat was charmingly worn by a blonde. Two of apricot chiffon and crepe de chine with bands of velvet in the golden brown shade were noted as effective, also one in the sand shade with bands in a deeper tone. A lovely pale green with trimming in a deeper shade and a hat carrying out the two colors was another effective frock. There was one other in the green, but more of the sage green, that was stylish. This was built with an accordion pleated flounce. Fringe on the frocks seemed to be popular with some of the misses, who always wear their clothes well.

But it was not the clothes that seemed to be interesting either the misses or their partners, but rather the music (the Original Six), that evidently played to the satisfaction of those who had come to dance. The misses certainly had a wonderful time, for many men came stag and one of the most interesting sights for the spectator, at least, was to see how they "cut in," actually closing in on the dancers in their eagerness to secure a turn at least, with the girl who could best adapt herself to his steps. How they do it is a mystery to those who were taught to count out the steps, but not to the up-to-date miss.

Miss Alice W. Homer managed the party and the members of the Council chaperoned. Mrs. James A. Bailey, the Commissioner, was present throughout the afternoon to welcome the young people and other patrons, who seemed to be getting much pleasure in watching the dancers. Hardy Catering Company served ice cream and cake at intermission.

Announcing—

The Most Beautiful CHEVROLET in Chevrolet History

TRULY the most beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet history! Truly an achievement which must immediately change all existing ideas as to what the buyer of a low priced car has a right to expect for his money!

Here is the irresistible appeal of unbroken, flowing body lines—of modish new Duco colors, fashionably striped—of notable smartness—of that flawless silhouette regularly associated with the costliest of custom-built creations.

Here are score after score of advancements in design, literally too numerous to list completely—but typified by one-piece full-crown fenders, bullet-type lamps, coincidental steering and ignition lock and large 17-inch steering wheel.

Here is definite assurance of longer life, more satisfactory operation and even greater economy—for all models are equipped with a new AC oil filter and an improved AC air cleaner!

Such features as these are usually found only on cars costing up into the thousands. They are marks of distinction on the world's finest automobiles. Yet these are now offered on The Most Beautiful Chevrolet because the spectacular growth of Chevrolet popularity has sent Chevrolet production to tremendous volume—and only the economies of tremendous volume plus inspired engineering make possible the manufacture of so fine a car to sell at Chevrolet prices.

We urge you to come in for a personal inspection. And we ask you to come, not in the customary casual mood—but actually anticipating the revelation you would expect when the world's largest builder of gearshift automobiles announces a completely new line of cars whose truly great value is based on irresistible beauty and a host of improvements including:

Ready For Business

Both branches of the Massachusetts Legislature began the 1927 session of the General Court Wednesday morning. It should be of interest to the people of this town for several reasons. First, because there will be business transacted during the session that will directly or indirectly affect the welfare of this community. The people of the State have chosen men and women to serve them in these two branches, but their duty should not end there. The people should follow up by interesting themselves in what transpires on Beacon Hill during the coming year.

We have elected men in whom we have confidence. Senator Charles A. Warren can be relied upon to safeguard the interests of Arlington as he has in his past terms of office, while Senator Joseph R. Cotton, with his fine record of service to his town of Lexington in other capacities, can also be depended upon to be zealous in the office to which his constituents have elected him.

Our Representatives, Elliott R. Barker of Arlington, and George E. Briggs of Lexington, are sure to be heard from in the session of the General Court. This is the second time that Mr. Briggs has been called by his townspeople to represent them in the General Court, and while this will be Mr. Barker's first term, he is likely to make his influence felt on any committee to which he may be appointed.

Watch the men whom you have helped to elect. Not in a critical mood, but with an interest and confidence that they will perform their duties to the best of their ability, which is sure to reflect credit on the towns and cities they will represent.

Should Be Thankful

The prodigious prosperity of America has not been sluiced off by a small group of powerful industrial magnates, but has been scattered in a golden shower far and wide among all classes—and to such an extent that to speak of classes at all in the United States seems to the European an anachronism.

There are almost four times as many automobiles in the United States as in all the other parts of the world put together.

The rising curve of wages has enabled the American worker to boost his standard of living. He can now actually buy one-quarter as much again with his weekly pay as he did before the war.

The radio aerials on almost every house in New York are mute markers of the advance of American labor. Never before were the comforts—even luxuries—so widely diffused among men.

The passion for technical improvement, or efficiency, into which the pioneering spirit of America has been transmuted, is exemplified, among other ways, by the application of electric power to a degree never before known in any land.

New bonds aggregating $250,000,000 were sold during the first week of December, the largest volume of any week for the year. Prices also were the highest, and there were not enough to fill the demand.

Much of this new buying was with money newly earned, showing the prosperity of the country. It comes from every stratum of society and industry; it defies classification as wages, interest, savings, profits—it is the net result of an almost universal prosperity.

The new year promises to come in with no outstanding feature save its widespread prosperity. But that alone will make it notable in American history.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Mandis of 34 Bowdoin street on January 2nd.

—Miss Beryl Austin, who is attending Gray Court school at Stamford, Conn., was among the young ladies home for the holidays.

—Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wyman will celebrate their fifty-third anniversary on the evening of Jan. 8th, by entertaining their children and grandchildren, 16 in number, with a dinner at Young's Hotel.

—James Gass, husband of Belle ran two dances last week, one for the Juniors, in which several of our young people participated, and a Senior New Year's Eve Party.

—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bowser, of 18 Peabody road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite Genevieve, to Mr. Tom Wiley Briggs of West Somerville.

—Charles L. Dennen returned to Georgetown University at Washington, D. C., after spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Dennen, of Warren street.

—Grace Morrill Donohue of 468 Walnut street, Brookline, and Henry Smith Fisher of 18 Overlook road, this town, were united in marriage at Jamaica Plain, on December 27, by Mr. Charles E. Worden, Justice of Peace.

—Miss Josephine Hooker spent the holidays with her mother, Mrs. E. D. Hooker. She resumed her Kindergarten work this week, at Plainfield, N. J., where she has been engaged since the opening of the school year.

—Julia Agnes Crowley of 122 Pleasant street, this town and George Ashlin of Rye Beach, N. H., were married at the rectory of St. Agnes' church on Saturday, January 1st, by the pastor of St. Agnes' church, Rev. Fr. Matthew J. Flaherty.

—Arnold Goni, two years of age, passed away on December 30th, at 60 Walnut street, death being due to bronchopneumonia. He was born in Somerville, the son of John and Jennie Malvarni Goni. Interment was at St. Michael's Cemetery, on Jan. 1st.

—The Searchlight Club meets Thursday, Jan. 13th, at 2.30, with Mrs. A. A. Lawson, 13 Ravine street. The speaker will be Denys P. Myers, corresponding secretary and librarian of the "World Peace Foundation." His subject is "Why the United States does not enter the League."

—Private letters from the Misses Robbins at Christmas time noted that the ladies are spending winter in Switzerland. They have had one snow storm, but the snow did not remain long, so was not minded. Where they are located in Lausanne, they have a beautiful view of the Alps which are already covered with snow.

—St. John's Episcopal Church, Academy street, Rev. Charles Taber, Rector, Sunday services, 10.45 a. m., Holy Communion and Epiphany sermon; 4.30 p. m., Service of Lights. The afternoon service sets forth the spreading of the light which is Christ through the Church out into the world. Wise men present their gifts, apostles light their candles from the Christ light, pass it on to the ministry, and so to the choir and the congregation, until all in the church hold a lighted candle. The service is beautiful and dramatic.

—The second meeting of the Florence Crittenton League will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph J. Kirby, 23 Maple street, on Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 2.30 p. m. Mr. Linehan, the speaker announced, unable to be present, the meeting will be addressed by Mr. Chas. Gates, who will speak on the "Causes of Delinquency in School Children." There will be readings by Mrs. Hooker.

—Beginning next Sunday morning, January 9th, Charles Thompson Allen, Pastor of the Calvary Methodist church, will preach a series of sermons on "The Business of Religion"; January 9th, "Assets in Religion"; January 16th, "Liabilities in Religion"; January 23rd, "Commodities of Religion"; January 30th, "The Demand for Religion."

—There will be a man in the Assessor's Office at Robbins Memorial Town Hall from the State Income Tax Department, next Monday, January 19th, from noon until 5 o'clock to help all persons who need assistance in making out their State Income Blanks. According to the provisions of Chapter 187 of the Acts of 1926, it is no longer required that these blanks be attested to. All that is required now is the signature of the person making out the form.

—The Bradshaw Missionary Association connected with the Orthodox Congregational church, met Monday afternoon in the ladies parlor of the church, presided over by its president, Mrs. Eugene Vinal. Mrs. Manley Albright, one of the foremost workers in the Home Missionary Board, told of her work in the rural districts. The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Walter E. Lannefeld and Mrs. Edward E. Bacon, who were assisted by Mrs. Floyd Davis and Mrs. E. E. Brainerd.

—Mrs. Roger W. Homer entertained her nephew, Miller Baird, of New York, through the holidays. His birthday comes on New Year's day, as does also that of Mrs. Homer and Mrs. Allen Chamberlain. It has been made the occasion for a joint birthday celebration for several years. This year Mr. Baird was the host at a dinner party served at "The Gray House" in Boston with eight covers. A joint birthday cake from the Hardy Catering Company was one of the attractions of the party.

—Dr. C. C. P. Hiller, Superintendent of the Lynn District of the Methodist Church, in this section, will be the preacher at the evening service in the Calvary Methodist church. Immediately following the service he will conduct the Fourth Quarterly Conference of Calvary Church. It is at this Conference that the annual reports of the various activities and affairs of the local church are read. This will be an open Conference, and all members and friends of the church are cordially invited.

—At the meeting of the Baptist Ministers of Boston and vicinity held last Monday, Rev. Henry Sterling Potter, D. D., of the First Baptist church, this town, was elected president.

—The members of the J. D. Club were entertained at a dinner party last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Barker. Two new members were welcomed into the club at this time, Mrs. Ralph Simmons and Mrs. Clarence E. Johnson.

—Miss Marion Armstrong of Lynn and South Peabody and Wilfred L. Griffin of Lowell street, Arlington Heights, announce their marriage. It took place in the First Baptist church, Portland, Me., on Aug. 31, 1926, performed by Rev. William A. Jacobs. The bride is well known in both Lynn and South Peabody, where she was connected with a banking concern. Mr. Griffin has been a resident of Arlington for 27 years and is now manager for a well known insurance company.

—A class in Music Appreciation has been formed by the music committee of the Arlington Woman's Club. It will be held on the second and fourth Thursdays in each month. Admission is free. Members of the club will illustrate compositions to be studied. Mrs. Fred A. Horner of 15 Newman way will be hostess at the first meeting, Thursday, January 13th, at 10. m.

—The newly elected officers of Arlington Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, were publicly installed in G. A. R. Hall on Wednesday evening. The installing officer was Mrs. Katherine McCarron, past master of Melrose Grange, who was assisted by her degree staff. Each chair officer was represented by a tableau as that officer was inducted into office. They were the same as those announced in this paper several weeks ago. A buffet luncheon was served.

NEW POLICE QUARTERS TO BE COMPLETED IN MARCH

It is now expected that the new Police Headquarters on Central street will be completed about the middle of March. The weather thus far has been all that could be desired by the contractor in charge of the building, and he has made wonderful progress. The men are working on the interior. The windows are in, the garage built, the cells in place and the offices and rooms are being partitioned off.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS PROBATE COURT

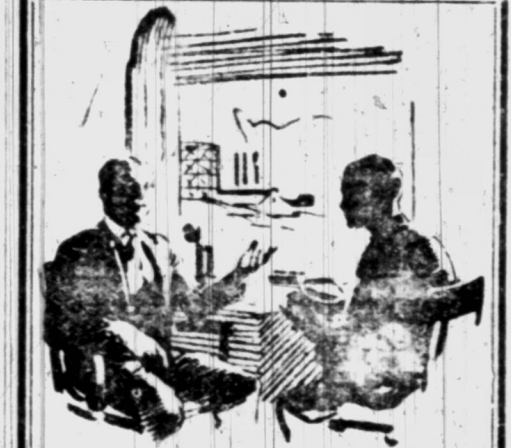

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Harriet E. Stevenson, late of Arlington, in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, by Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to it, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on its official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-sixth day of January, A. D. 1927, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Arlington Advocate, a newspaper published in Arlington, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, JOHN C. LEGGAT, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this third day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven.

JANUARY 7, 1927. LORING P. JORDAN, Register.

Chats With Your Gas Man

WHEN GAS WAS VERY YOUNG

When Gas Was Very Young—Here's a quaint old paragraph found on a yellowed program of the Covent Garden Theatre, London, with the date 1817—

"The proprietors respectfully inform the public that an entirely new method of lighting the theatre has been adopted, effected by a magnificent chandelier which from the center of the ceiling diffuses a soft and brilliant light around, without obstructing the view of a single spectator. In its effect the body of lights is directly equal to 300 lamps!"

What a fluttering of polite interest was manifest as the audience began to gather, hoop-skirted ladies with demure beauty spots and graceful fans, courtly gentlemen in powdered wigs and buckled shoes! It was one of the early farewells to the old oil lamps.

This lighting of the gas at fashionable Covent Garden 109 years ago.

This theatre was one of the first buildings in London to be piped for manufactured gas. Now, over a century from that momentous night, gas service is a commonplace to London's millions not only for lighting but for cooking and heating, to say nothing of its extensive and growing use in industry.

—The members of the Arlmont Country Club are enjoying coasting and tobogganing at the club house this week.

—On January 2nd a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James L. Friend of 69 Tanager street, at Symmes Arlington Hospital.

—The regular meeting of the Commonweal Club will be held next Wednesday, January 12th, at the home of Mrs. Arthur E. Robinson, 1 Paul Revere road.

—Miss Helen Joseph entertained Miss Hope Hanley and Miss Anna Harris, classmates at Radcliffe, over the holiday and week-end.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Briefer and son, Victor, of Appleton street, spent New Year's Day and the holiday in New York City.

—A number of Heights residents were guests at the New Year's party given by Mrs. Frank Merrill at her Winchester home on Friday evening.

—Mrs. N. Clarke of Mt. Vernon street entertained a group of young friends of her son, Charles Miller, with a New Year's Eve party, the young men being fellow members of the De Molay group.

—On New Year's Night, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mead were at home informally, to a few friends, the evening being spent for the most part with bridge, as the diversion.

—The Arlington Heights Study Club will hold its next meeting Tuesday afternoon, January 11th, in Hamby Hall. "Radio and Juvenile Court" will be the subject for discussion. Mrs. J. Howard Hayes and Mrs. Clifford R. Dumble are the members in charge.

—Miss Alice Holmes left on Monday morning for a six-weeks' tour through the New England states and Canada, with the Roseland Quintet. The recital which she was to hold in High school hall, Jan. 21, has been postponed until March.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Crockett, of 15 Wachusett avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla, and Warren John Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Emery, of Melrose.

—Muriel Slocum, aged 11 years, of 69 Brand street, was taken to the Symmes Arlington Hospital Sunday, following an accident on Forest street, when she was hit by an automobile reported as having been operated by John W. Field of 83 Brown street, Brookline.

—Mr. H. H. Kendall and daughter, Miss Alice Kendall, have left the Heights for their annual sojourn in the South. Previous to their going, Mrs. Oscar Schnitzer entertained them and a few friends with a social evening at her home.

—Mrs. Charles Harvey entertained a large group of friends with a New Year's Eve party at her home on Richardson avenue, last Friday evening. Bridge and dancing occupied the greater part of the evening. At midnight a supper was served. The decorations were of the Christmas colorings and greens. Mrs. H. J. Anderson took the first prize for the ladies, Mrs. O. B. Vinal, second, and Mrs. George Webster, consolation. Mr. Frank Hewitt received the first gentleman's prize, Mr. F. A. Patterson, second, and Mr. J. F. Brackett, consolation.

—The regular business meeting of the Sunshine Club was held on Wednesday, January 5th, at the home of Mrs. H. J. Henderson, 144 Hillside avenue. Mrs. Frank Hewitt was the assisting hostess. There were eight tables in play. At the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. C. H. Harvey, of 11 Richardson avenue will entertain next week.

—Last Sunday evening at the Young People's meeting at the Park Avenue Congregational church, there was a communion service for the young people at which the pastor, Rev. Harold L. Stratton, officiated. Four young men served as deacons, and four of the young ladies served as deaconesses. They were Herman Doane, Donald Meekin, Shelley Pierce, Charles Evans, Charlotte Lloyd, Marjorie Manning, Helen Stinson and Frances Irwin.

—The Arlmont Country Club House was the scene of a pretty New Year's party (an annual event), last Friday. The music for the dancing was furnished by Ray's orchestra, and included novelty, favor and streamer dances. A midnight supper was served by a caterer. The committee was: Mr. George W. Long, vice president of the club, also chairman of the house and entertainment committee; Mr. and Mrs. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hersey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren and Miss Florence Coolidge.

—Mrs. W. O. Partridge was the hostess for the annual New Year's party of the Sunshine Club. This party has, with but one exception, always been held at the home of Mrs. Partridge on New Year's Day; she acting as hostess. The members of the club look forward to this gathering with unusual interest and at this time seven tables were used in the game of plain whist. The dining room was open for the serving of refreshments through the hours of the playing. Five prizes were given and were taken by Mrs. William Roop, first; Mrs. Horace Peirce, second; Mrs. Clarence Parsons, third; Mrs. Anderson, fourth, and Mrs. Hewins of Belmont, consolation. One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was the singing of Auld Lang Syne, with George Lloyd accompanying, while another was the social hour, enjoyed with long time friends.

EAST ARLINGTON

—Mrs. J. Delay has been visited by her daughter of Bangor, Maine, during the past holidays.

—Automobiles operated by Harrison D. Slayton of Manchester, N. H., and A. W. Morgan of 65 Randolph street, were in collision Monday, opposite 35 Mass avenue.

—Miss Sydney Dickson of 53 Monford street, Boston, was the weekend guest of her cousin, Miss Olga Dadds, 56 Hilton street, last week.

—A fire was discovered in the coal bin in the home of Michael McCarthy, 93 Melrose street, on Monday night, and an alarm was sent in from box 142. The fire was extinguished before it had gained any headway.

—William Warren is the name of the son born on December 28th at Symmes Arlington Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Warren Murray of 37 Hilton street.

—Miss Celia V. Riley of 18 Norcross street left on Wednesday for Miami Beach, Florida, where she will spend the winter at the home of her brother, Mr. Charles J. Riley.

—The Esther Bible Class of Trinity Baptist church held their January meeting on Monday evening, January 3rd, at the home of Mrs. James E. Norcross, 260 Mass. avenue. The regular business meeting of the club was followed by an enjoyable social time.

—The Philathea Class of Trinity Baptist church were entertained at the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, January 4th, at the home of Miss Etta Hoeg, Belknap street. The business meeting was followed by a social hour, when refreshments were served.

—The Girls Friendly of the Church of Our Saviour held their first meeting of the new year at the church on Monday evening, in charge of the leader, Miss Carrie Hutchinson. It was in the form of a consecration meeting, when the purpose and aim of the group was renewed and plans for a better and bigger group for the coming year were made.

—Mrs. Flora Emily MacLennan, widow of Neal H. MacLennan of 28 Windsor street, died on December 25th. She was in her fifty-ninth year and was born at Port Hastings, Nova Scotia, and was the daughter of Hugh and Sarah Welch MacDonald. Interment was at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington, on December 28th.

—On Friday afternoon, December 31st, Mrs. James G. Simpson of Cleveland street, entertained a group of friends with bridge. Two tables were used in play. Mrs. Henry Wheeler of Belmont, formerly of Arlington, took the first prize and Mrs. Frank Waterhouse, of Belmont, the consolation. The decorations were suggestive of the Christmas season. At the close of the afternoon, tea was served by the hostess.

—John M. Moran, formerly of Milton, where he conducted a grocery store for a number of years, died at the home of his son, George A. Moran, 67 Thorndike street, on Saturday. The funeral was held on Tuesday morning, a high mass of requiem being celebrated in St. Annes' church by Rev. Donald F. Simpson. Musical sections of the mass were sung by members of the church choir. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

—On Thursday, January 6th, Epiphany was observed at the Church of Our Saviour. The communion service was held at 7 o'clock in the morning and the regular service was held at 7.30 o'clock in the evening, both were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Warren N. Bixby. The evening meeting was followed by the annual parish meeting with reports of committees and election of officers. It also marked the opening of the Bishop's Crusade, a nation-wide campaign in the Episcopal churches.

—An automobile, reported as having been operated by Blazeta Paula of 54 River street, struck traffic officer Harry Davis of the Cambridge police department as the latter was doing traffic duty of Mass. avenue, near Everett street in Cambridge, Tuesday evening. The officer sustained a fractured thumb, abrasions on his arms and badly shaken up. This crossing is an exceptionally dangerous one. It was at this spot that another Cambridge officer was fatally injured a few weeks ago.

—The Women's Guild of the Church of Our Saviour held their annual business meeting at the church on Wednesday evening, January 5. The officers who have served for the past year were re-elected to serve for the coming year and are as follows: Mrs. Edward Colby, president; Mrs. C. M. Hunt, vice-president; Miss Carrie Hutchinson, secretary, and Mrs. John Goode, treasurer. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. E. L. Lenk and Mrs. W. J. Dadds.

HEIGHTS STUDY CLUB

The Arlington Heights Study Club met Tuesday, December 28th, in Hamby Hall, Mrs. George Adams Clark and Mrs. Frank W. Garrett in charge. The meeting was devoted to "Arts and Crafts" and Mrs. Ber S. Currier and Miss Margaret Patterson were guests of honor, each of whom was presented with a bouquet of old fashioned flowers. Mrs. Currier, who is the district director of the club, told of her work as director, while Miss Patterson gave an interesting talk on the three different kinds of prints and exhibited many pieces of her matchless block prints. Miss Helen Hill sang a group of songs with Miss Norma Patrick at the piano. Mrs. Edwin Allen of the Kensington Park Study Club, was a welcome guest, as were also the members of the Junior Study Club. In one part of the hall was an exhibition of the work done by members

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

The disagreeable weather New Year's Eve (rain made the streets slippery) interfered somewhat with the attendance at the Watch Night service that was held in the First Baptist church. Seven of the Protestant churches were represented by their minister and members of their congregation, although the audience was less than one hundred and fifty.

A splendid service was arranged however, and carried out. Dr. Henry Sterling Potter, minister of the Baptist church, presided, and with Dr. Frederic Gill, minister of the First Parish Unitarian church, announced the hymns sung by the congregation, led by the church quartet, that sang anthems, with Mark S. Dickey, organist, presiding at that instrument. Rev. Harold L. Stratton, minister of the Park Avenue Congregational church, read the scripture, and Rev. Edward Allen Morris, minister of the Orthodox Congregational church offered prayer, while the benediction was pronounced by Rev. James E. Norcross, minister of the Trinity Baptist church.

The sermon was by Rev. Charles T. Allen, minister of the Calvary Methodist church. His text was found in the third chapter of Deut., 25th verse. "I pray thee let me go over and see the good land that is beyond the Jordan, that goodly mountain, and Lebanon." His subject was, "How big is your World?" His thought was that we each have our world. Some choose a world of pleasure, others one of business, others selfish desires. At the beginning of the new year we should resolve to expand our world so as to take in all mankind. This can only be reached by service to God through whom we will be willing to serve mankind. Mr. Allen closed his sermon by reciting Joaquin Miller's "Columbus."

MRS. RACHEL L. MALCOLM

Following a short illness, Mrs. Rachel L. Malcolm, wife of Ralph B. Malcolm, passed away at her home, 30 Bonad road, on Sunday, January 2nd. She was born in Summerville, Nova Scotia, forty-eight years ago, the daughter of William and Frances Rols Harvey. She has lived in Arlington the past six years, previous to that time she made her home in Boston. The deceased was interested in the work at the First Baptist church, where she was a member, and especially in the Clare Class, an organized group of women in the church. The Commonwealth Club of the Center, a group interested in the work of the Frances Willard Settlement, occupied her interest and her many friends in these circles, and her neighbors, who admired her, sympathize with the family in her passing.

The services were held on Wednesday afternoon, January 5th, from the First Baptist church, at 2.30, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Henry Sterling Potter, D. D. The music was furnished by the church quartet of the Hancock Congregational church, Lexington. The selections were, "Now The Day is Over" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Interment was at Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Mrs. Malcolm is survived by her husband and a daughter, Mrs. Sydney W. Kitson, who was Josephine Malcolm, and for a time was soloist at the First Baptist church, this town, also of the Hancock Congregational church in Lexington. Her mother, Mrs. Frances Harvey, of Fort Washington, Long Island, three sisters, Mrs. Harry Malcolm and Mrs. Wesley de Pau of Fort Washington, and Mrs. L. Lake of Summerville, N. S., and a brother, Mr. George Harvey, of Fort Washington, also survive.

THE OPINION OF AN ADVOCATE READER

(Correspondence)

Dec. 30, 1926.

Gentlemen:— I was very much interested in reading an extract from the speech of Ex-Senator Beveridge to the DKE convention. His remarks will be thoroughly appreciated by anybody who has ever lived in a state which was boss-ridden and absolutely politically controlled by men like Mat Quay.

Unfortunately, my early years as a voter, were spent in Pennsylvania, which was a boss-ridden state under his regime. If there ever was one, and it was impossible for an honest man to become interested in civic affairs, while such a state as he created existed. I can name many other states that were similarly controlled, prior to the adoption of the primaries. As he truly says, the old style of convention system "is not an expression of our representative government, but a negation of it."

Very truly yours,

CHAS. M. MacMILLIN.

The article referred to appeared in the Boston Herald under the head "Beveridge Plays Foes of Primary." We reprint it at request of our correspondent. The primaries are all right in theory, but because they are left to run themselves, makes them, to the editor's mind, all wrong.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (AP)—Sincere opponents of the primary and protagonists of the convention for the selection of political candidates are keeping bad company, Albert J. Beveridge, retiring honorary president of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity told members of that organization at its 82nd annual convention tonight.

The reason those who favor the convention and seek to discard the primary are in bad company is that "all the evil forces in American life" are also against the primary and for the convention, the former senator from Indiana said. Doing away with the primary, he said, would be a return to the "boss controlled convention," which was shelved for the primary system.

"The primary," Beveridge declared, "is a phase of the growth of our popular representative government. It is the result of normal evolution of the representative principle—first the caucus, then the convention, last the primary. The reason that the party convention ceased to represent party voters was that it finally came to be run by party bosses who were little more than hired men of great non-public interests."

"That corrupt system always was strongest where unjust and dishonest public privileges were in greatest demand. It nominated candidates for governor, attorney-general and other state officials and candidates for Congress and the Senate. Party voters had no hand in the management of party conventions, and the convention became the tool of the party boss, who used it to carry out the orders of those whose agent he was."

"This is the party convention as it actually works, at its best. It is not an expression of our representative government, but a negation of it."

CUTTER-CAMERON

Monday evening, January 3rd, at 7 o'clock, Theresa Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cameron, of 1180 Mass. avenue, Arlington, became the wife of Rudolph Cutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Cutter, of 77 Summer street, this town. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, was in the St. James' church at Arlington Heights, and was the double ring service. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Cutter and the groom by Mr. Benjamin Pike. The couple have been spending their honeymoon on a trip to the White Mountains, and on their return will reside at 107 Summer street.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Walter R. Johnson to John F. Stackpole, trustee, dated April 12, 1926, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4963, page 491, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at 12 o'clock noon on the thirty-first day of January, A. D. 1927, on the premises in said mortgage described, all and singular the premises by said mortgage conveyed and therein described as follows, to wit:

Southwesterly by Lake Shore Drive, as shown on said plan, there measuring Seventy-five (75) feet; Southwesterly by the lot numbered Twenty-three (23), as shown on said plan, there measuring one hundred six and 3/100 (106.00) feet; Northwesterly by the lot numbered Twenty-nine (29), as shown on said plan, there measuring Seventy and 90/100 (70.90) feet; Northeasterly by the lot numbered Twenty-one (21), as shown on said plan, there measuring One hundred five and 55/100 (105.55) feet; Containing Seven thousand five hundred and ninety-one (7,591) square feet of land, more or less, and be all of said measurements, boundaries and areas, more or less, according to said plan.

Being the same premises conveyed by the said John F. Stackpole, trustee, to the said Walter R. Johnson, March 31, 1926, and duly recorded in the said Middlesex South District Deeds. This conveyance is made subject to restrictions of record and subject to the taxes for 1926, and is subject to a first mortgage in the sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars with interest to date.

Said premises will be sold subject to the mortgage referred to above and to any and all outstanding or unpaid taxes or other municipal taxes. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash or certified check at the time and place of sale, the balance of the purchase price to be paid in cash within ten days thereafter. For further particulars inquire of Thomas G. Connolly, 40 Court Street, Boston, (Hubbard 4147), attorney for the holder of the mortgage. Other terms to be announced at the sale.

A. H. S. ICE HOCKEY TEAM TO HAVE A RINK

The High school ice hockey team is to have a rink and if the plan which coach Ed Coffey has in mind works out, it will be one of the best on the circuit. The rink is to be located on the playground, adjoining Cutter school, which was given to the town by the heirs of the late Theodore Schwamb. The land forms a perfect rink and three sides of it are already banked up so that it will only be necessary to treat the fourth in the same way, to have a perfect rink. The rink is to be flooded as soon as the weather is sufficiently cold to freeze the ice. It is expected that the league games will be played there during the coming season. The rink is easy of access while the games can be witnessed with ease as every place is a grandstand seat, owing to the fact that three sides are higher by six to ten feet, than the playground. Now all that is needed is zero weather to make ice.

The High school ice hockey team was scheduled to play the School of Commerce of Boston, Thursday of last week, but only a few of the Commerce team appeared on Spy Pond, where the game was scheduled to be played. A team was gotten together "just for fun," which, however, was reported in some of the Boston papers as having been played between the two schools. While practicing after the scrub game, Leonard Wood was hit by a puck on the lip. It required four stitches to close the wound.

The A. H. S. ice hockey team expected to play the Alumni team during the holidays, but lack of ice and other reasons saw no such game.

The Middlesex Sportsman's Association basketball team has been furnishing some mighty fine games for the members on Saturday evenings at the club house. It would be interesting to many of its members and others if there was some way in which semi-professional games could be played with outside teams, equally matched with the home team. This would be possible if some plan could be devised for making a charge to attend.

ARLINGTON RIFLE CLUB THE VICTORS

Arlington Rifle Club defeated Battery H, 528 to 498, last week in the Irvington street Armory, Boston. The scores:

Arlington Rifle Club—P. Robertson, 85; J. E. Berglund, 87; W. F. Gurney, 87; V. Friedrich, 85; A. F. Randall, 91; C. Joseph, 93. Total, 528.

Battery H—F. S. Grant, 70; J. W. Whelpley, 83; A. C. M. Ochs, 80; A. J. Brown, 96; A. W. McCarthy, 84; G. C. Johnson, 85. Total, 498.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

In an elimination contest last week, Troop 9, of the Church of Our Saviour, Scoutmaster Allen, defeated Troop 5, Junior High West, Scoutmaster Surrence, by a score of 117 to 89. The events in which points were scored were as follows: Troop 9, First Aid, 50; Questionnaire, 61; Drill, 40; and Knot-tying, 20. Troop 5, First Aid, 30; Questionnaire, 59.

At the Court of Honor held in Arlington Dec. 30, Gordon Dow of Troop 13 passed tests for First Class and Frederick Corcoran of 5 and Carl Pearson of 13 for Second Class. Merit Badge tests were passed as follows: Ambrose Riley of 2, Public Health and Firemanship; Edward Brainard, of 8, Swimming; Robert Dearing of 8, Swimming; and Edward W. Darby of 8, Star Scout.

Fourteen Scouts of Troop 14, Belmont, in company with Scoutmaster Dalton, made a three-day hike to Camp Oak Dec. 31-Jan. 2. Each scout took his own grub and cooked it. During the three days every Scout in the party passed tests of various sorts. Richardson, Pugsley and Reynolds, working on the Pioneering Merit Badge, built a lean-to. Scout Hitchcock hiked to within 2 miles of Lowell from Belmont, in company with scout Garey of Troop 3 and did his 20 miles for the Hiking Merit Badge. Scout Beachey walked 14 miles for his First Class test, hiking all the way home. Scouts Reed, Dalton, Pearson, Hatfield, Peterson, Staples and Beachey also passed other tests. Sunday afternoon, the Patrol Leaders and Assistants piled their dunnage on a big toboggan and hiked to the bus line, returning the rest of the way by bus.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

Chief Thomas O. D. Urquhart has rounded out twenty-two years as head of Arlington police department.

Mr. N. J. Hardy has resumed his usual active and useful vocation after an illness of three weeks that confined him to his home.

The alarm on Sunday afternoon from box 26 was for a slight fire in the home of Anthony Broderick, 115 Medford street. The fire evidently started in a pillow and made considerable smoke.

The bridge to be held Wednesday, Jan. 12th, in Robbins Memorial

Town Hall, under the auspices of the Woman's Aid Association, gives promise of being a large affair. There will be a food sale connected with the bridge so don't forget to bring your purses.

Christmas trees are being discarded, having served their purpose in the homes. It has been suggested that when possible to plant them in the snow at your homes and place pieces of stale bread, meat or suet on the branches of the tree, for the birds. They will appreciate this act of kindness these cold wintry days, when the ground is so covered with snow as to make it difficult for them to get food. If one cannot do this see that the tree is kept out of sight until the rubbish man comes around and then have it carted away.

The Sowers Lend-a-Hand is to conduct a "Current literature course" with Winnifred King Rugg as the leader, beginning January 18 in the St. John's Parish house. The other dates are January 25, February 8th, February 15th and March 8 and 15.

Two trucks, one, operated by John Vargis, of 7 Newton street, Cambridge, and the other by John Toye of 66 Brattle street, were in collision on Mass. avenue, opposite the Senior High school, Saturday.

Louis Mead, a local taxi man, was injured in a mixup of three automobiles Saturday at the railroad crossing. The machines were damaged some, and Mr. Mead was so injured as to cause him to give up his work for the time being.

Spy Pond was the mecca for hundreds of skaters on Sunday. The ideal winter's day and fairly good ice attracted many. The ice was in a fairly good condition and safe, with the exception of a section kept open for the ducks.

The specialty shop of George Greenleaf, for some time located in the Post Office Block, has now moved to 799 Mass. avenue, in the block opposite the Hartwell and Dr. Young property. Here the Advocate can be found, together with all kinds of periodicals.

Last Friday one of the U. S. Mail trucks, operated by Edmund M. Bickford, and hailing from Cambridge A Station, and an automobile operated by Paul A. Nesbit of 9 Carter street, Boston, collided on Pleasant street, near Gould road, with serious results to both machines, and giving the drivers a bad fright.

Patrolman Pigott, while in the vicinity of Burlington, Friday of last week, noted fresh automobile tracks going into the woods. On investigating, he found an abandoned automobile, also a leather case in which there was a license and registration. The officer jotted down the number on the machine. It was learned later that the machine had been stolen in Medford. The owner was found and notified. When a garage man went for the automobile only a chassis remained or a perfectly good car. Every movable part had been removed.

MRS. MARY BURKE BUTLER

Mrs. Mary Burke Butler, widow of the late Edward J. Butler, and for forty years a well known resident of Arlington Heights, died at her home, 125 Park avenue, Friday, December 23rd, following a painful illness. Although a native of the West End of Boston, soon after her marriage to Mr. Butler, who was deceased some two years ago, the couple moved to Arlington Heights in the large and attractive home in which both passed away. Mrs. Butler was a woman of most pleasing personality and affable manner that brought to her a host of friends. She was always interested in philanthropic work and her ample means permitted her to bring cheer and comfort to many, although always in such a quiet and unassuming way that only the ones benefitted were aware of her generosity. She identified herself with many charitable organizations, however, and assisted in promoting their wide scope of helpfulness. She gave of herself in her church work and for several years was an efficient member of the board of the Women's Aid Association of Symmes Arlington Hospital. She was also interested in the Associated Charities of Arlington, when it was known by that name. She was also a member of the Arlington Woman's Club.

The funeral took place on Monday morning from her late residence. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. James' church, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Maurice J. O'Connor, being the celebrant; Rev. Michael J. Owens, formerly of Lexington and now of Quincy, deacon; Rev. Dr. James J. Baxter, of Waltham, formerly of Belmont, sub-deacon and Rev. James P. Sherry, master of ceremonies. There were many priests of Greater Boston present at the service and many nuns representing the charitable orders. The church was filled with friends and there were a great many beautiful floral tributes as well as spiritual bouquets. Burial was in Malden.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

There are now four troops in Arlington, meeting Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Miss Virginia Wellington is captain of Troop 1 and Mrs. Clinton Haig, lieutenant. Mrs. Stephen Smith, captain of Troop 2, while the lieutenant is Miss Bernice Dodge. Troop 3 has Mrs. Oscar Schaefer for captain and Mrs. Harold Yeames, lieutenant. Mrs. Stanley Kingman is captain of Troop 4 and Helen Bennett, second lieutenant. Several of these leaders have been the direct result of the training class which our director, Mrs. Stevens, has been conducting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council was held at the home of Mrs. James A. Bailey, the commissioner, on Monday afternoon.

Dear Advocate:

All residents of Arlington, I am sure, enjoy reading the bulletins which come with our gas bills, containing, as they do, useful street and fire directions, interesting essays extolling the merits of gas, etc.

As I do not own a motor car, the traffic rules and regulations did not seem to require much of my attention, except those for pedestrians in order to learn how to avoid being run down by those who do travel about in that luxurious fashion.

But two other items particularly fixed my attention:

First, Rule 20, "No person shall drive a bull thru the streets of the town unless it be securely fastened and led." This rule, it seems to me, should be strictly enforced. It is very annoying when strolling along our fair streets to find them infested with bulls, some, it is true, "securely fastened," but others on leashes that look suspiciously weak and some roaming about, apparently without any chaperon whatever. I am not so timid as those ladies whose hearts contract within them if a cow gazes mildly, but steadfastly in their direction, but I must confess that a rampant bull is an altogether different proposition and I feel strongly inclined to slip into the nearest store or mount the steps of some stranger's veranda when confronted with one.

The other is rule 44, in which the word "horse" is conveniently made to include all domestic animals, that it, in these rules and regulations not only horses, but cows, oxen, bulls, sheep, goats, cats, dogs and swine are all to be regarded as horses, which seems curious but doubtless works well in practise.

DEMOCRITUS TERTIUS.

STANWOOD DRISKO, WELL KNOWN OPTICIAN PASSES AWAY

Stanwood Drisko of 152 Brooks avenue, Arlington, died in the Bay State Hospital of bronchial pneumonia, following an operation for appendicitis performed the day before Christmas. Mr. Drisko was suffering from a severe cold when it was discovered that an operation for appendicitis was imperative, and only lived five days. He was born in Boston, August 9th, 1890, the son of Fred M. and Martha (Shute) Drisko and was graduated from the Dorchester High school. He studied at the optical school in Boston and became connected with the Globe Optical Company until three years ago, when he went into business for himself with office at 230 Boylston street, Boston. He married Miss Gladys Hammonds of Arlington, October 12th, 1924, and is survived by his wife and a fifteen months old daughter, Jane. For two years the couple resided in Milton, but came to Arlington, where even in the short time he has lived here, had made many friends.

Mr. Drisko was a member of St. John's Lodge of Masons in Boston, and a charter member of the Henry Knox Lodge of Masons at the Army Base. He also belonged to the Alepo Temple, Mystic Shrine. He was a member of Longfellow Chapter, O. E. S., in Arlington, and a member of Christ (Unitarian) Church in Dorchester. He served as a second lieutenant in the Medical Reserves during the World War.

Funeral services were held New Year's day in the First Parish (Unitarian) church of this town. Rev. William A. Marzoff, minister of the Christ (Unitarian) church in Dorchester, of which Mr. Drisko was a member, conducted the service, having also married the couple. Maj. Gen. Henry Knox Lodge of Masons, Frederic Gilbert Bauer, worshipful master, conducted a Masonic service, and members of the lodge acted as pallbearers.

Edgar Downs of Belmont and Harold Berrie and Charles Perham of Arlington, members of Longfellow Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star in Arlington, were ushers at the church. Mr. Hicks of the Schubert Quartet sang, and Jack Thomas of Boston played the organ.

Burial was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery; delegations from the above Masonic Lodge and St. John's Lodge of Masons escorting the body to the grave, and the first-named lodge held a Masonic committal service. "Taps" was sounded. Mr. Drisko having served as a first lieutenant in the Medical Reserves during the World War.

Besides his wife and daughter, the deceased is survived by parents who reside in Dorchester, also, a brother, Paul Drisko of Dorchester; and a half brother, Benjamin White, of Belmont.

BOSTON MUSEUM ACQUIRES A TINTORETTO PAINTING

Opportunities to secure important works by the great masters are so rare in the present day and competition among prospective purchasers is so keen that the Museum of Fine Arts is fortunate in its recent acquisition of a painting by Tintoretto, "The Adoration of the Magi." But few examples of this painter's work are to be seen outside of Europe. It fills a gap in the collection of the Museum, representing the Venetian School in its great period of the 16th century, although the museum also possesses a "Portrait of a Senator" by Tintoretto.

The canvas is large, measuring 9½ by 5 feet. All the figures conventionally represented are here: the three Kings—Gaspar, Melchior and Balthazar—Joseph, Mary, and the Infant Jesus. The standing kings, dressed in Oriental robes and placed in rather dramatic attitudes, form a group by themselves. They both wear crowns with turbans and carry vessels containing frankincense and myrrh. The kneeling figure, Gaspar, offers a golden cup to the Child. Above his head and beyond there stretches a splendidly imaginative background. To the right stands Joseph in an attitude of devotion beside Mary who is portrayed in the typical garb of the period. The Star of Bethlehem shines above, cherubs hover over, while in the corner a pair of rabbits complete the picture. These three sections are not so distinct as to be unbalanced or to detract from the unity of the whole, for there is a definite rhythm carried from the Kings standing through the kneeling figure up to the star above Joseph's head.
